Hi, I’m Ready!

And I’m Freddie!

Together, we’re...

Ready Freddie!
My cousin Laura sent me an email. The one far away? Will you read it to me?

Dad sent a text. He’s fine. Thank goodness! Let’s check on our neighbors.

“Dear Ready, Last month we had a big earthquake. The good news is that my family is OK.”

“When we felt it, we did ‘Drop, cover and hold.’ It kept us safe!”

Dad sent a text. He’s fine.

“Afterwards, we checked to make sure others were OK.”
Are you OK, Mr. Garcia?

Yes, but my dog is trapped!

We've got peaches and crackers.

And here are beans and soup.

Thank you!

“There was a lot of damage. But we all helped each other out.”

“When it was hard to buy groceries, neighbors shared food.”

“A bunch of families worked together to clean-up our school.”
What could we do to get through a disaster like an earthquake?

Well, remember what Laura did when she felt the earthquake?

Drop, cover, and...scold?

Drop, cover, and...mold?

Ooh, ooh, don’t tell me!

No, Freddie! I’ll show you!

Drop, cover, and hold!

“It was a difficult time, but we pulled together. Now I think our neighborhood is stronger than ever!

Your cousin, Laura"
In an emergency, you might need to leave your home quickly. After leaving, where will all your family members meet?

If there's a fire, we'll meet at the end of the block.

Talk with your family about what to do if there's an emergency.

I'm going to show them this book!

Plan an emergency meeting place.
Draw your family at your emergency meeting place.

Can I be in your picture?
Hey Dad! Who is your disaster buddy?

Write in information about your disaster buddy.

Draw a picture of your disaster buddy in the square!

My buddy’s email (or family email)
Get to know others in your school or neighborhood.

Hi,
I'm Ready!

And I'm Freddie! Together we're...

Ready Freddie.
I know. We met yesterday.

You might help each other someday.

Look what happened in the storm! How will we move the tree?

We've got a chain saw. We'll help you!
Neighborhoods where people know each other do better when there’s a disaster.

I wish I could use a chain saw!

We don’t need any more disasters, Freddie.

Zooooom
But here are more ideas you can do!

Put together an emergency kit.

Practice emergency drills at home.

Fastest time yet!

Write down phone numbers for your family and others who could help in an emergency. Tape them inside a school binder or keep them in your backpack.

Fill in the information you will need in an emergency. Draw pictures of who you will call.
Parents and caregivers, here are some simple tips for your family to become Ready Freddie!

MAKE AN EMERGENCY PLAN:
1. Learn about possible disasters where you live at MakeItThrough.org. Determine your family’s needs and how you can survive these hazards. Consider the special needs of others, such as the elderly or persons with disabilities, in your planning.

2. Develop and practice a family emergency and communications plan. How will you contact each other if a disaster happens? Would you know what to do if phone lines shut down? Have an out-of-state contact for family members to call if local lines don’t work.

3. Develop and practice an evacuation plan should you need to leave home. Be ready to follow evacuation requests and orders issued by local officials.

BUILD AN EMERGENCY KIT:
This is a checklist of basic items for your kit. Add more when you can.

- Water (1 gallon per person per day)
- Nonperishable food (3-5 days of food per person)
- Clothes (1 change of clothes and footwear per person)
- Medications (3 days worth)
- Flashlight and batteries
- Manual can opener
- Battery powered radio and batteries
- Hygiene items (soap, toilet paper, toothbrush)
- First aid (bandages, antiseptic, nonprescription medicine)
- Blanket
- Special needs items such as extra eyeglasses, charged batteries for wheelchairs and hearing aids, pet food, diapers

HELP EACH OTHER:
- Identify a “disaster buddy.” Promise to check on that person if there’s a disaster, and that person will check on you.

- Check on neighbors, friends, and loved ones if there’s a disaster, especially the elderly or those who may need extra help.
